HAS PROVED A BOOMERANG

Democratic Abuse of County Commissioners is Re-acting.

THE PEOPLE JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES

Cannot be Hoodwinked by Democratic Papers Hungry for Spoils—Spicy Letter From a Correspondent Shows a Bright Outlook for Republican Success in Old Centre.

Centre County unquestionably is fully as far advanced from an intellectual, religious, commercial, industrial or political standpoint as any other of Father Penn's shrievalty bailiwicks in the State. This is a statement so irrefutable to the minds of each and every honest as well as fair-minded individual as to make further argument or the furnishing of superfluous proof not only unnecessary but simply ridiculous.

Talk about the disgust and actual revulsion of political feeling among the local newspaper readers of Centre County. the reader of this never saw or heard of the like that actually exists at this time. District after district and township after township, as well as borough after borough discloses the fact that the inhuman and heretofore unheard-of treatment attempted to be hurled at some of the Republican county nominees is proving the most stupendous boomerang and beneficial campaign document in behalf of those whom it was supposed to injure that ever was known in all the political annals of Centre County. When Democrats who have held some of the highest and most influential offices in this county are free to express themselves in public condemnation of the Democratic press of their own county for its distinctive blackmailing against all county officials, then surely there must be and is something radically wrong.

It is all well enough for those Bellefonte newspaper men who sit at home from day to day, week to week and month to month writing up their supposed "political stunners" against the opposite faith, but if some of the political writers of the Democratic press would take a trip through the various sections, townships and boroughs and hear the vituperative denunciations of the heretofore voters with their own party, they would not have another line of that character in their own publication.

Especially is this a fact with the mountains of attempted abuse on Commissioners Riddle and Fisher. Every well informed voter, irrespective of political faith, is well aware and free to confess by vote and work that never had Centre County a more faithful, competent and economical board of county commissioners than that which has been presiding for nearly three years. This expression of opinion doesn't pervade throughout any particular branch of Democracy, but throughout the whole element of that political faith. Instead of succeeding in taking votes away from Riddle and Fisher these newspapers are making votes for them, because the intelligent voter of today has so thoroughly learned the fact that when thoroughly honest men like Riddle and Fisher are so bitterly and unfoundedly attacked by the opposition press there must be something wrong with the accusers. The question is often asked: "Don't the Centre Democrat and the Watchman get their amount of printing anymore?" The only answer to be made is, that instead of their heretofore exorbitant charges for certain work for the county the same can be so much more cheaply as well as so much better done that the same has for several years gone elsewhere. This is really every drop of milk in the cocoanut shell, and the newspapers in question will not dare to bring forth one word of dispute. The records for county printing will very plainly show this, and they will show not only one, two, three, half a dozen or even scores of years, but some of them half a century.

Because these Democratic organs have not been able to hoodwink the present board of county commissioners and thereby rob the taxpayers of Centre County out of hundreds, yea, out of thousands of dollars per year by charging excessive fees for every particle of county printing they did, they see fit to go into spasms over little trifles which they IMAGINE several of the present board of county commissioners committed.

Every fair-minded voter knows those papers are not honest and, as previously stated, if their publishers would take an extended trip over the county and circulate among the Democratic, the Republican as well as the Independent voters and secure their personal conviction, the rehash of figments and absolute political untruths to which those wornout and absolutely unimportant Democratic publications devote the bulk of their space would become more impressively apparent.

It is really amusing, although encouraging from a Republican standpoint, for a careful Republican political observer to make a trip over the county and hear the denunciatory expletives hurled against the Democratic newspapers by the independent voter, for the disregard of all truth and political fairness evidenced by those particular publications.

Every iota of political information that can and is secured from day to day is more encouraging for the entire Republican ticket of the county, as well as the state. While it is what some may call an "off year" that fact doesn't in any way have the least deterioating effect upon the county ticket. Even Cyrus Brungart, the Democratic nominee for sheriff of the county, says he doesn't know why he hadn't a right to virtually steal two precincts (and thereby three delegates) from Ellis Shaffer in Miles township, but he will see more of a reply on election day to this question than he cares to encounter at this time. Since the expose of the would-be Democratic sheriff's political trickery, as so plainly shown in last week's issue of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN, far more political treachery of that supposed political saint has come to light. Take for instance the way he treated Mr. Cal Weaver, of Aaronsburg, as a criterion by which to judge. Brungart was then a candidate for the same nomination he succeeded in capturing this year, as was then also Mr. Weaver, and the stories then and this year, as far as primary influence goes, were the same, and does Brungart think that the Weaver influence is any more subtle than that of the Shaffer element? There are unquestionably no two families by their names in Centre County today, nor ever were, than the Weavers and the Shaffers, who stand higher in the estimation of the people and have done more for the Democratic party than have those families. Now, what has this heretofore Democratic party ever given them? Yes, they want their votes, their influence, their money, but when it comes to giving them the nomination for some important office someone else is selected. No wonder there is dissatisfaction among those who have so often been deceived!

If the writer didn't chance to be so well acquainted with these family and politically considered circumstances he would not be inclined to go so minutely into details, but when facts, circumstances and actually prevailing political conditions are so apparent and drummed into your ears from day to day, and actually almost every hour, what more can you do than to in some measure prepare the same for information to each and every inquiring one of the county who has a vote to cast on next election day.

A word to the industr al people of Centre County. Remember, that before McKinley was elected he promised that in case of his election the furnace and other industrial fires would be lighted and that the smoke from the millions of stacks then idle would issue in profusion. How has he fulfilled his promises? You need only to go to Bellefonte (and that is only one of the million spots) and its vicinity to observe its verification. Everybody knows what we had the four years previous, so there is no use recalling it here. Where there were several hundred vacant houses in Bellefonte several years ago, the newcomer today is hardly able to find one in which to shelter his family and himself. What does all this mean? It means that prosperity is here, it is here in earnest, and it is here to stay. All this means a larger and better market for all kinds of produce; it means that every mechanic and laboring man who desires it has employment, and it proves that all the predominating national organization promised to give is in positive evidence.

Another word to the fair-minded voters of Centre County. There is a fully sufficient number of voters so thoroughly dissatisfied and actually disgusted with the Democratic county ticket, who will vote the Republican county ticket, to elect the latter by an overwhelming majority if only every Republican voter is out at the polls and his ballot goes in with a cross at the top of the left hand column. The Democrats are anxious to help us. They are in large numbers against their own ticket, so that we have it all in our own hands this year.

There is but a comparatively short time until election, and in the meantime it is hoped the Democratic press of the county will continue to republish its worn out rehash, or "sawdust pudding" to their readers, for by every succeeding issue they make just so many hundred votes for the Republican county ticket. In fact it occurs to the writer that the entire Republican county ticket owes a debt of gratitude to the Democratic newspapers of Centre County for making them as many votes as they did by falsification and republication of the same which has driven hundreds of heretofore stanch Democrats into the Republican fold and many of them to stay.

BLESSED WITH CHURCHES.

Gregg Township Has the Largest Number of Any District In the County—Bound for Heaven.

It is not generally known, but nevertheless true, that Gregg township in this county has more churches than any other township in the county. It may surprise many to learn that the people of that township have an opportunity of worshiping in any one of the sixteen different church edifices within that territory, and embracing nearly the whole category of denominations established throughout this section, comprising principally the Lutherans, the Reformed, the Evangelical the United Evangelical, the Presbyterian, the Methodist, etc. A revivalist is now at work near Spring Mills and according to the unbounded success with which he is meeting it may not be long until he will have a congregation sufficiently large to own and occupy its own temple of worship. From all these facts it can be said that Gregg township, for church interests and the usually accompanying piety, stands ahead of any other township in the county, and in proportion to its population should have the largest number of good seats in the kingdom to come, which no doubt they will. At least that is the record they have in that line at this time.

BARNETT'S TOUR A BIG SUCCESS.

Republican Candidate For State Treasurer Enthusiastically Received.

A STRAIGHTFORWARD PLATFORM.

Will Administer the Office For the Benefit of the Whole People.

TO GUARD PUBLIC MONIES.

Will Insist Upon Immediate Payment of Interest Upon Public Funds and Will Cash Warrants Promptly.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—The tour of Colonel Barnett, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, has been a series of popular demonstrations of enthusiasm, and as he proceeds in his canvass the meetings get larger and the ovations more enthusiastic. Many of the scenes witnessed in Roosevelt's whirlwind campaign for governor in the Empire state are being repeated here. The people, regardless of party, are turning out to receive the young soldier fresh from the Philippines, and all indications are that many of them will disregard politics when they vote next month and Democrats and Republicans alike will honor him with their ballots. Colonel Barnett is not a spectacular orator. He does not play to the galleries, but in a straightforward, matter of fact way he discusses the issues and tells the people just what he will do in the event of his election. He spoke plainly as to the office of state treasurer in a recent speech.

BARNETT'S PLATFORM.

In this address, among other things, he said:

"The platform adopted by the Pennsylvania Republican state convention is the best that has been promulgated in any commonwealth of this republic. If I shall be elected to the office of state treasurer I shall ask no better rule for my guidance than the enunciations of that platform. Under those principles I shall hold the position for the whole people, irrespective of party. It shall be my duty, and it will be so fulfilled, as an accounting officer of the state, to aid in the prompt collection of taxes and claims, the prompt settlement of all accounts against delinquents, whether individuals, companies or corporations, without fear or favor, for the purpose of maintaining the credit of the state by promptly paying, under due warrants of law, all claims and appropriations. And especially for facilitating and carrying on the work of our grand free school system in every district, no matter how small or how remote.

"The Republican party has placed upon our statute books a law which compels bankers to pay interest on daily balances of deposit of state money. That interest shall be promptly collected and applied, under provisions of law, to the obligations of the commonwealth.

"It is not the reform of abuses that the Democratic party desires. It is after bigger game. It hopes to create dissensions in the Republican ranks that will serve to disrupt and disorganize the party and give them a chance to carry the presidential election next year. Let Republicanism be shaken in its very citadel and the party in every state in the Union will be seriously affected. Democratic victory means that the flag shall be hauled down from over the Philippines and the national ensign suffer its first dishonor."

SOLDIERS ARE DELIGHTED.

The soldiers who are with Colonel Barnett on his tour are all delighted with the ovations that the party are receiving at every stopping point. Major Killian, of the First Nebraska, who was with Barnett in the Philippines, and who came east to help him in his canvass, makes a rattling campaign orator. He says the people of Pennsylvania are most patriotic and that from what he has seen and heard on this trip he is confident that Colonel Barnett will be elected by an immense majority.

The Barnett party are due at Reading tonight, Lancaster tomorrow night, West Chester on Friday and Media in the afternoon and Chester in the evening on Saturday next.

For the following week this is the schedule: Monday, 23d, reception in Philadelphia; Tuesday, 24th, Indiana; Wednesday, 25th, Kittanning, Armstrong county; Thursday, 26th, New Castle, Lawrence county; Friday, 27th, Franklin, Venango county, and Saturday, 28th, Erie. They will open the last week of the canvass at Warren, Warren county, on Monday, Oct. 30; on Tuesday, 31st, they are due at Bradford, McKean county; Wednesday, Nov. 1, at Williamsport. They are to be given a reception by the Penrose club, of Philadelphia, on Friday, Nov. 3, and by the Young Republicans of Philadelphia on Saturday, Nov. 4. This schedule is subject to a few changes. The Dauphin county Republicans insist upon Colonel Barnett visiting Harrisburg on the last Saturday of the canvass.

General Gobin has another party of spellbinders, who are at work daily. They are booked for Brookville this evening, Kittanning tomorrow afternoon and Butler in the evening, and Franklin on Thursday and Greenville, Mercer county, on Friday. They go to Meadville next Saturday. This party is accompanied by the Tenth Regiment Glee club, which is making a big hit wherever meetings are held.

AGUINALDO'S PRAYER.

Insurgents' Solicitude For Their Party Disgusts Loyal Pennsylvania Democrats.

CREASY'S UNPOPULARITY.

Official Election Returns Which Show That He Does Not Stand Well With His Neighbors.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Oct. 17.—Make a note of the date—Election day, Tuesday, November, 7.

All good Republicans will bear this in mind. This is going to be a great year in national politics. The result of the elections in the several states next month will be watched not only by the people of the United States, but by the nations of the world. The issue of the foreign policy of the McKinley administration is inseparably connected with the canvass in every state in which there is to be an election, and the returns will be watched and reviewed with particular reference to their bearing upon the national administration.

Nothing that has occured in politics since the last presidential election has created as much talk as the proclamation of Aguinaldo to his followers, in which he said:

"In America there is a great party that insists upon the government recognizing Filipino independence. We must show gratitude and maintain our position more resolutely than ever. We should pray to God that the great Democratic party may win the next presidential election."

This declaration from the ringleader of the insurgents has attracted widespread attention, and Democrats who are loyal to their government are disgusted with the position in which their leaders have placed them and their party. They will refuse to vote the Democratic ticket this fall.

There is every reason why every Republican should go to the polls on election day and vote the entire party ticket, from top to bottom. There never was a time when a national administration deserved more thoroughly the hearty and cordial support of the party organization to which it naturally looks for indorsement.

The best way to indorse the administration at Washington is to go to the polls on Nov. 7 and vote the whole Republican ticket, and no Republican should omit the performance of that duty.

CREASY NOT POPULAR.

The candidacy of W. T. Creasy, the Democratic nominee for state treasurer, represents the radical wing of the Democratic party. He is being ardently supported by his fellow silverites and by that element of the party which is publicly proclaiming against President McKinley and his administration. Many of them are co-operating with the Atkinson movement, which is giving encouragement to the insurgents in the Philippines by the circulation of treasonable literature and otherwise attempting to create sentiment against the policy of the president.

Creasy himself is cutting a small figure in the canvass. He is getting speeches into the Democratic and assistant Democratic papers, which are being prepared for him, and is talking a great deal about what he knows very little.

Following up its arraignment of Creasy upon his antagonistic attitude toward the old soldiers, comes a plain, matter-of-fact statement from the editor of the Columbia Republican, published at Creasy's home, which tells its own story as to his popularity with his neighbors. This is what it says in this week's issue, under the caption, "What the Official Vote Demonstrates:"

In 1894 W. T. Creasy was a candidate for the legislature the first time in Columbia county, and was elected. His majority compared with Singerly's is as follows: Singerly had 1,334 majority over Hastings, Creasy had 1,010 majority, or 324 less than Singerly.

In 1896 Creasy was a candidate for the second term. Bryan had that year 1,542 majority over McKinley and Creasy had 1,091 majority, or 451 less than Bryan.

In 1898 Creasy was a candidate for the third term. Jenks had 2,127 majority over Stone and Creasy had 1,404 majority, of 723 less than Jenks.

This is the verdict which his neighors and acquaintances registered on three different occasions.

The campaign which is being made in the interest of Creasy has been a veritable frost.

An interview with former Republican State Chairman Gilkeson, of Bucks county, published in the New York Tribune, has attracted some comment.

"Only a few years ago," said Mr. Gilkeson, "40,000 was considered a normal majority in Pennsylvania. Since the Democratic factions have become so bitter the better element of their party has come over, so that Pennsylvania may be put down as normal at 150,000. The 300,000 majority may be drawing the line a little too far, but still in a national campaign the steady business Democrats who want no nonsense in politics can be counted on either to vote the Republican ticket or not to vote at all.

"I notice one thing in our district, and I think it is growing everywhere—that is the more active part taken by the farmers in political matters. They are beginning to wake up to the fact that manufacturers are not the only products of toil and skill to be safeguarded by putting the right party and principles in authority. They begin to realize that the great staples cereals, dairy and meat products, cattle, sheep and hogs, and notes and eggs, are not articles market days or by only in cities, towns have become the port to Europe a stable fin coin of ant to teres wi

I only hope the linue the folly of the Chic of 1896, just to let them see how public sentiment has progressed even beyond the thrashing they had in that year.

"The Democrats have not even a ghost of a show in this state. Barnett will get the full Republican vote, if not more.

"It looks as if we will have a full vote out. The people feel the enthusiasm of the return of the Tenth Pennsylvania and the Dewey welcome, and have not forgotten the Grand Army encampment and other ceremonies which arouse patriotism. I think Pennsylvanians feel that the eyes of the whole country are upon them, and notwithstanding that it is an off year in politics they must set the pace of majorities for the McKinley campaign of 1900. I think our people will give an expansion Dewey parade majority which the people of the sister states will not fail to understand."

THE STATE ISSUES.

A Good Man to Administer the Office of State Treasurer.

"Republicans are not afraid to take up the state issues or to discuss the necessity for Governor Stone's action in cutting down the most liberal item in the budget so as to make expenditures in income balance each other," says the Wilkesbarre Times. "We have already been too liberal at the expense of the state treasury, and if the action of the governor will draw attention to this subject he will have performed a public service. Money gotten by indirect taxation is apt to be lavishly spent, and we know something of this lavish expenditure by many of the school boards and townships in our own county.

"Nor are we afraid to discuss the management of the treasurer's office. Under the new laws there is no possibility of wrong doing, and the method of depository, together with the payment of interest to be turned into the treasury, makes everything so plain that only a reputable business man is required for the position of custodian. We have such a man in Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, the Republican candidate, who besides possessing all qualifications named is all right on the protective system, an advocate of sound money and a supporter of the McKinley administration. This is the man for the times, and the people of Pennsylvania will undoubtedly say so on the 7th of November."

THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC.

Significant Address by Archbishop Ireland as to the Philippines.

Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, was shown much attention during his recent visit to Pennsylvania. This distinguished prelate is a staunch Republican. In an address which he made at the banquet of the Marquette club, of Chicago, given in honor of President McKinley on his trip west, in responding to the toast "The American Republic," Archbishop Ireland, among other things, said:

"The American republic is the best form of organized democracy revealed in humanity's history; as such she claims homage from her own citizens; as such she draws to herself the attention of the world.

"And surely there has been in America no lowering of the highest standard of patriotism. Where is the country at whose call for heroes citizens with such speed, with such forgetfulness of self and in such numbers rally to the flag? Defeat is unknown in America; defeat is impossible in America.

"We proclaim that in Asia, as in America, the American flag means liberty and all the blessings that go with liberty. Some say it means in Asia the repression of liberty.

"It means in Asia order restored, and it must be restored; the flag of America may be trusted to be for the Philippines the harbinger and guardian of the liberty and the rights of the people."

WASHINGTON ROMANCE.

Clerk in the General Land Office Held a Prisoner.

MAN AND WOMAN UNDER ARREST

On a Charge of Having Drugged and Robbed the Old Man, and Having Kept Him a Prisoner in a Garret. Accused Deny the Charge.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Adelbert W. Cox, for several years prior to Oct. 1 a member of the Washington police force, and Etta Williams, a young woman with whom he lived, were arrested yesterday morning by Detectives Miller and Peck charged with the larceny of $100 from James A. Stewart, 55 years of age, and for a long time a clerk in the general land office.

Back of this formal charge, according to the police, is a most remarkable story. Stewart disappeared from his boarding house Sept. 6, and for four weeks an unavailing search was made for him. He was finally found in the attic of the house where Cox and the Williams woman lived in a state of collapse and almost demented from the effects of drugs which it is alleged had been adimistered to him by the pair under arrest. Stewart was taken to the hospital, and though at first his life hung by a thread, he recovered in about ten days.

Stewart is a widower, with a married daughter living in Annapolis, Md., and roomed alone in Washington. He left his rooming place Sept. 6 to make a call, and for weeks no trace of him could be found. Finally the police gained a clew by learning as the result of inquiry at the local banks that he had $375 on deposit with the Washington Loan and Trust company. All of this amount save $10, they ascertained, had been drawn out on checks payable to bearer, signed by Stewart and endorsed by Adelbert W. Cox. The first checks were clearly written, but the latter ones were in a weak and almost illegible hand. Cox had explained this at the trust company's office by saying the old man was rapidly failing in health.

With this clew the detectives found Stewart in the garret of a house where Cox lived. He had had hardly any food for a month. He said he had called on Cox and the Williams woman, who formerly boarded where he did, on Sept. 6. They sent him out for some liquor, and after that he remembered things only in a vague way. On his statement the police arrested Cox and his paramour on a charge of larceny, pending investigation and consideration of the making of more serious charges. Both prisoners secured bail in $1,000 each.

Cox was compelled to resign from the police force a short time ago because of his relations with the Williams woman and a suit for divorce brought by his wife. He denies having held Stewart a prisoner. Cox says that Stewart went to Atlantic City in September with two women and about $200 in cash, and when he returned he said he had been robbed and beaten at the seashore. At Stewart's request he was permitted to use a room in the house where he (Cox) lived, and was cared for by Miss Williams. Stewart, Cox says, appeared to be afraid his whereabouts would be ascertained by relatives. All the money drawn from the bank in Stewart's name, he said, was given to him.

ADMIRAL DEWEY LEAVES BOSTON.

Ten Thousand People Cheer the Departing Hero of Manila.

Boston, Oct. 16.—Amid the cheers of 10,000 people Admiral Dewey departed from Boston last night on the Federal express for Washington. The admiral spent a very quiet day in the city resting. During the day he visited the Somerset club, where lunch was partaken of. When the time came to leave the club the crowd was so large outside the Beacon street entrance that the admiral and party stepped out the rear entrance. They walked through the Public Garden and nearly to Copley square, thence back to the Touraine, the admiral apparently not being noticed. Last night the admiral left the hotel in a closed carriage for the railway station, under escort of about 20 mounted police officers. The crowd which followed was a large one, and a greater one was at the station. The party at once went aboard the express, which immediately left, the enthusiastic people running down the track after it.

Hook, federal judge of the district of Kansas, and he is the sixth federal judge who has tried the case. The plaintiff in the action, Mrs. Sallie E. Hillmon, now Smith, since her second marriage has sought for 20 years to recover $25,000 insurance on the life of her husband, John W. Hillmon, who died or disappeared in 1879 near Medicine Lodge, Kan. A body was shipped to Mrs. Hillmon at her home in Lawrence, Kan., which she swore was the body of her husband, and which the insurance company denied. The sum now due Mrs. Hillmon, if the courts decide in her favor, will amount to nearly $100,000.

The One on Which the 47th Regiment U. S. V. is to Sail for Manila.

Thursday Wm. Cramp, & Sons ship building firm at Philadelphia, delivered to the war department the transport Thomas, which has been thoroughly overhauled and is now said to be the finest troop ship afloat. As this is the boat on which the 47th Regiment, to which so many Bellefonte boys belong, is to sail for Manila the latter part of this month, we thought a brief description of this fine transport would be interesting to our readers.

She has ample accommodations for 1,670 enlisted men, seventy-five commissioned and twenty non-commissioned officers, besides a crew of 150 men.

The Thomas is the largest vessel owned by the government, being 465 feet in length, with an extreme width of fifty-two feet. Her power comes from two triple expansion engines and she carries four six-pounder rapid fire guns. She is provided with every convenience. She has an isolated hospital and the main hospital is a model of sanitary excellence. Every compart is furnished with hot or cold air. In warm weather the atmosphere is cooled with a spray of water, which intercepts the air as it passes into the vessel. In the butcher shop is an electrically operated machine, which chops more than 500 pounds of meat per hour, and a dough mixer in the bakery handles a barrel of flour at a time. An ice making and refrigerating machine furnishes cold storage facilities sufficient to preserve enough food to carry 2,000 men in a trip around the globe. A plant for distillation of fresh water from sea water has been installed. The troop deck is supplied with iron cots, with canvas bottoms, which are arranged three in a tier. The life saving equipment has been augmented by additional boats and two new steam launches.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed; Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Wants $3000 for a Tooth.

Dentists throughout the country will be interested in an action which has been started in Philadelphia. The action is the filing of a claim in a court of Philadelphia by Malcolm D. Reybold against Samuel Kimmel, a dentist, asking for $3000 damages arising under the following circumstances: On July 14, Reybold visited the defendant's office for the purpose of having two back teeth extracted. He says he pointed out to Kimmel the exact teeth which he desired pulled. He took gas and prepared for the operation. When he regained consciousness, Reybold declared, he discovered that the dentist had pulled the wrong teeth, whereupon he notified the doctor of the mistake. The plantiff alleges that the dentist attempted to replace the teeth, which caused the plaintiff much pain and suffering and a severe injury to his jaw.

FIGHT ON FOOTBALL FIELD.

Game Between State and W. & J. Declared No Contest—2000 People Disappointed.

The State-Washington and Jefferson foot ball game at State College Friday afternoon ended in a fight and was declared off after 15 minutes play by Referee Dr W. T. White of Lehigh. The result was a great disappointment to the crowd which was quite large over 200 being present from this place. As neither side had scored nor gained any material advantage there is no predicting what the result would have been

From the beginning the game was fast and snappy, though unusually rough, and several times both sides were warned by the referee. The climax came at the end of 15 minutes' play when Burns, State's left halfback, made a brilliant 80 yard run to W. & J.'s 15-yard line, where he was tackled and downed by Core. After he was downed Reed, a 200-pound W. & J. man, jumped with both knees on Burns chest, injuring him severely Coach Boyle at once ran in and interfered, and he was followed by Captain Randolph. Coach Boyle refused to continue the game, though W. & J. wanted to play it out. Under the circumstances the referee declared the game off.

Late Friday evening the officials of the game gave out the following statements "In the latter part of the first half a W. & J. man jumped with both knees on the chest of an opponent. A general fight took place between the two teams, as the State men had seen what had taken place and resented it. As umpire I disqualified the player who had made the foul. Both teams would have been disqualified if the disqualification had taken place, so I, as umpire, was willing the game should go on with the one disqualification that caused the trouble. Referee White told me that Captain Randolph did not wish the game to continue and that the game was called off." Signed, A. E. Young, Cornell, umpire.

"After 10 minutes actual time had transpired both teams were warned by the umpire, Mr. Young, against rough playing, and State had the ball on her 40-yard line and by good interference advanced the ball to W. & J.'s 15 yard line. Burns, States left halfback, made the run which was the longest run of the game and was thrown heavily on the side line at the 15-yard line. Then a W. & J. man made a flying leap and lit with doubled knees on Burns' chest. It was one of the worst exhibitions of dirty play that was ever made by a college player. The W. & J. man was disqualified, and the crowd rushed over the ropes and a general melee existed for several minutes. When the field had been cleared both captains refused to play, so the Game was declared off by the referee." Signed, W. T. White Lehigh, referee.

The teams lined up as follows:

State.		W. & J.
Harris	Left end	Core
Randolph	Left guard	McFarland
Cummins	Centre	Hammer
Scholl	Right guard	White
H. Miller	Right tackle	Thompson

A Sad Accident.

On last Tuesday, Fowler Miller, son of John Miller, of Romola, who was working in the woods above Lock Haven, fell and had several logs pass over him, almost crushing him to death. He was taken at once to the Lock Haven, hospital, and from there was brought to this place and taken to his home at Romola.

Dropped Dead.

On Thursday morning of last week Mr, Jacob Miller, who lives on the J. H. Orvis farm in Curtin township, dropped over dead. He was aged 65 years, and leaves a wife, one son and several daughters. The funeral services were held in the Advent church on Sunday.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c at F. Potts Green's store.

The pursuit of pleasure is often as dangerous to life as the pursuit of "the bubble reputation even at the cannon's mouth." Late hours, the breathing of a vitiated atmosphere, rich foods, and irregular rest, must result in a depleted vitality. There is a feeling of languor, the appetite fails, sleep does not refresh, life loses its interest, and nervousness or hysteria may make life miserable.

The preservation of the healthful tone of the body depends chiefly on keeping the blood pure, and the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition in a condition of health. When any of the above mentioned symptoms appear the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore the body to a healthy equipoise. It purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and restores the deranged stomach and its allied organs to a condition of sound health.

There is no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant contained in "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I was troubled with very frequent headaches often accompanied by severe vomiting," writes Miss Mary Bell Summerton, of San Diego, Duval Co., Texas. "Bowels were irregular and my stomach and liver seemed continually out of order. Often I could eat almost nothing for twenty-four hours at a time. I was entirely unfit for work, and my whole system run down. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and did so with such satisfactory results that before finishing the third bottle I felt perfectly able to undertake the duties attending public school life. I most heartily advise those suffering with indigestion, and its attendant evils, to give this great medicine a fair trial."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. They produce permanent benefit and do not re-act on the system. One is a gentle laxative.

Protecting the Public Against Scalpers

The railroads running to Chicago have been obliged to take extraordinary measures to overcome the forgeries and other crimes committed by ticket scalpers. Heretofore the stamps and signatures required on return tickets sold at reduced rates to large gatherings have been freely counterfeited by the "scalpers," or ticket brokers, and the work was so skillfully done as to readily deceive conductors. The companies have now devised a special seal with an embossed design similar to the lathe work used on paper money, and this has been copyrighted. If this seal is counterfeited the culprits will be prosecuted in the United States courts. Heretofore prosecutions of this kind have been in State courts, where the money and influence of the rich brokers had more or less effect. They will not readily risk prosecution in the Federal courts. But what a comment on our laws is found in the necessity of the roads which have to adopt such measures to protect themselves from wholesale fraud. Congress should wipe the parasitical scalpers out of existence as has already been done in Pennsylvania.—(Editorial from Philadelphia "Press," October 6, 1899.)

"The Irish Alderman."

The Lock Haven Democrat of Wednesday has the following to say of "The Irish Alderman" which plays at Garman's opera house Tuesday evening October 24th.

There was fun galore and laughter to burn at the opera house last evening when "The Irish Alderman" was produced. J. P. Sullivan as "Dennis McSweeney," was there in all his glory, or, rather in all his troubles, for no man was ever placed in more awkward predicaments, as the outcome of an innocent little flirtation than he was. His reflections on "truth" and "lies" kept the laugh going round Charles F. McCarthy played the part of "Bridget Casey" to perfection, and kept the worthy alderman in as hot water as the most prying, nebby and officious mother in-law could wish. The other members of the company were O. K., all being brim full of the humor necessary to work out the frolicking farce in all its details.

Carl Licks gave a novelty in playing two saxophones at one time, which he did with masterly skill. J. P. Sullivan's solo on "The Widow Dunn" took well with all parts of the house, and Tom Ripley with his parodies on "To-morrow" and "grip" was accorded all that was in the bakeshop. Charles Heywood's impersonations in soprano and baritone were also greatly appreciated as was Josie Sisson's kiss song. The company as a whole is all right and can give an audience their money's worth in fun.

Fifty Years Hence.

"I was born a century too soon," sighed an electric light man yesterday, "for I have just conjured up a beautiful vision which I have no doubt will be realized in years to come. Within the next half century I predict that artificial lighting will be so powerful an inexpensive that it will wipe out the demarcations of day and night. Darkness, you know, is one of the forces of nature against which civilization wages war. It facilitates crime, it impedes travel, and it arbitrarily limits human exertion. At no great distant time darkness will be thoroughly conquered and the cities will be flooded with a light that will make every vocation of life as easy and practicable at one hour as another. In this latitude night is the best time to work—especially during the summer. The temperature is generally cool and there is no danger from the sun. I predict that in 1950 the streets of our city will be deserted at noon, except for a few midday roysterers or policemen carrying sunshades. Respectable folks will be asleep resting up for the night's work.—Philadelphia Record.

THE PUMPKIN CONTEST.

Joseph Baird of Milesburg Won First Prize, Weight of Pumpkin 66½lbs.

Much interest has been manifested in the result of the pumpkin contest conducted by Montgomery & Co., the enterprising clothiers. The contest ended Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and quite a large crowd was present to see the result.

The prizes to be awarded were two in number, and the pumpkins were to be raised from seed furnished by Montgomery & Co. The first prize was a $10,00 suit of clothes and the second a $5,00 suit. The Judges were William G. Runkle and John C. Miller of Bellefonte and W. A. Alexander, of Union township. There were fifteen pumpkins entered in the contest. The first prize was awarded to Joseph Baird, of Milesburg whose pumpkin weighed 66½ lbs. The second prize was given to H. C. Woodring of Port Matilda, the weight of his pumpkin being 64½ lbs. The other thirteen contestants were each awarded a valuable egg carrier as a prize.

The contest proved a great success in every particular and Montgomery & Co. are to be commended for their enterprise.

The judges in this contest proved very competent, especially as they all had been farmers in their time.

An Epitaph Writer.

Once upon a time Brewer Resinger, of Clearfield, missed a keg of beer. For some unaccountable reason he blamed Wm. T. DeHaas for stealing it. It is simply unaccountable why he should accuse a DuBois man of such a theft, but he took chances upon earning serious reflections upon his intellectual astuteness and accused DeHaas. In order to force his peculiar conclusions upon an unsuspecting posterity Mr. Resinger is having a tombstone made at the Clearfield marble works with the following inscription chiseled thereon:

Here Lies Lying Bill DeHaas, the Meanest Man in Clearfield County.

Of course Mr. DeHaas' host of friends who are everywhere in the county, will boycot the brewer's funeral, if he should outlive DeHaas and raise the epitaph over the latter's grave.—DuBois Courier.

Must Pay Their Own Bills.

W. A. Young, county commissioner of McKean county, recently placed in his accounts a charge for hotel bills, attendance on a convention of county commissioners held at Gettysburg, and railroad fare for such attendance. The auditors of the county refused to allow the claim and surcharged the commissioner with the items, and the common pleas court of the county, in a suit brought, sustained the auditors.

In an opinion by Judge Smith, the supreme court yesterday held that the compensations of county commissioners is purely statutory, and under the acts fixing the compensation of these commissioners only the cost of transportation necessarily incurred in the discharge of their official business could be allowed, and personal expenses, such as hotel bills, must be excluded.

Murphy—Nolan.

The Philipsburg Journal contains the following wedding notice·

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Roman Catholic church, the pastor, Rev. L. P. Kumerant, officiating. The contracting parties were Daniel C. Murphy, son of James Murphy, residing on the corner of Eighth and Spruce streets, and Miss Maggie Nolan, adopted daughter of Dennis Nolan, formerly of South Philipsburg. The young couple will have the best wishes of their many friends in their new relation. They will go to house keeping in town.

The bride was at one time a resident of Bellefonte and is a niece of John Glenn of Curtin Station.

General J. C. Black for Expansion.

At the reunion of the Southern Illinois Reunion Association here to-day General John C. Black, who was pension commissioner under President Cleveland, caused unprecedented enthusiasm by declarations in favor of expansion. General Black declared that he was an expansionist from the crown of his head to the sole of his feet. He wanted his position thoroughly understood. General Black referred to Senators Mason and Hoar and Aguinaldo in the most sarcastic terms. He said they might as well say to the ocean tide to cease its flow as to try to stop the tide of expansion. He declared he was but following in the footsteps of Jackson and Jefferson in favoring expansion.

SOLDIERS ANXIOUS TO FIGHT.

Willing to Be Punished For Desertion to Reach the Firing Line.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The steamer Gaelic brings the following advices from Honolulu under date of Oct. 8: The hospital ship Relief and the transports Tacoma, Sherman and Grant have all departed for Manila. Previous to the departure of the Tacoma the military authorities caused a search to be made for five soldiers of the hospital corps stationed here, who had stowed themselves away on board the ship in hope of getting to Manila. It is thought that two other missing men are on the Tacoma.

The six artillery batteries stationed here have lost between 20 and 30 men in the last few days by desertion. All the soldiers here are anxious to be sent to Manila. The men think they can steal aboard a transport, and on arrival report to the officers of the Sixth at Manila and escape with slight punishment. The soldiers are willing to stand 30 days in the guard house for the sake of getting to the scene of the war.

The transport Centennial arrived from San Francisco on the 5th. She brought 300 horses, 60 of them hanging on slings and ready to die from simple exhaustion. Two of them died after reaching port. The horses had been at sea for eight days, each one fastened to a stall just wide enough and long enough for its body. For eight days the suffering animals had no sleep nor rest whatever. The horses started as fresh, spirited animals, brought from Nevada to Oregon. They arrived thin and jaded, a large proportion of them only kept alive by simulants.

The Boers are quite as cocky towards the British as the Spanish were towards us just previous to the late scrap; and they will be just as thoroughly thrashed.

NINE VICTIMS OF FIRE

Through the Burning of the Sound Steamer Nutmeg State.

HEROIC WATCHMAN MET DEATH.

But For the Bravery of Samuel Jayne the Loss of Life Would Have Been More Appalling—Charges of Cowardice Against the Crew Not Sustained.

New York, Oct. 16.—Nine persons lost their lives and as many more were injured by the burning, early Saturday morning, of the Bridgeport line steamboat the Nutmeg State, off Sands Point, Long Island sound.

The dead are: Charles Anderson, watchman on the boat; Patrick Coffey, mate; John Connors, member of crew; Bernard Hendry, oiler; Samuel Jayne, Bridgeport, Conn., baggage master; Thomas Murphy, member of crew; Nils Nilson, member of crew; unknown woman, passenger; unknown man, passenger.

There was a panic aboard the Nutmeg State when the cry of fire aroused passengers from their sleep. The vessel was burning fiercely amidships. Passengers tell stories of cowardice on the part of the crew, but others deny their statements. Seven of the nine known victims of the disaster were members of the crew.

About a hundred persons were in peril, but prompt aid from others vessels made the loss of life much smaller than had been feared.

After passengers and crew had left the burning vessel she was sent at full speed toward the beach, where she lies, a total wreck.

Samuel Jayne, baggage master, who lost his life, is described as the hero of the fire. He discovered the outbreak and gave the alarm. He ran about awakening all he could, and the flames were raging fiercely when at last he tried to escape. He was then on the upper deck, and in jumping struck his forehead against the guard rail. Stunned, he fell into the water, and when the yacht Kismet went to his assistance he was almost dead. He died soon after aboard the yacht. Had he not so courageously made his way through the smoke to alarm the passengers the loss of life would have been much greater.

The work of taking passengers off the doomed vessel was done none too soon. She carried a large cargo, including cases of cartridges. As the fire made its way down into the hold there was a series of explosions, which increased the fierceness of the flames and destroyed the last chance of saving anything from the wreck.

The charge was made by several survivors that some of the crew acted in a cowardly manner, pushing the women to one side and getting into the lifeboats, regardless of the safety of others. Other passengers, however, assert that the crew acquitted themselves well. All reports agree that Captain Brooks, who is a seaman of long experience, was one of the last to leave the burning vessel.

Miss Savage was quoted as saying that when she attempted to get into a lifeboat she was rudely pushed back by some members of the crew. When your reporter saw her and asked her particularly whether there were any complaints as to the conduct of the crew she said there were not.

All that remains of the Nutmeg State are the twisted and blackened arms of steel and iron surounded by the huge copper bottom, which lies in the surf. Somewhere in the debris are believed to be the five bodies, but it will be some days before these can be reached. These are supposed to be in the forward part of the hulk, where the men of the crew were imprisoned by the fire. No attempt was made to recover any of the bodies yesterday, as the debris still gave forth smoke, but the work will be commenced today.

The bodies of a woman and little girl which were washed ashore on Saturday are at the undertaking establishment at Port Washington. No one called yesterday to identify them. The body of an unknown man was picked up by a yacht yesterday and taken to Stamford, Conn.

AN UPRISING PREVENTED.

Three Native Policemen in Manila Fomented the Proposed Revolt.

Manila, Oct. 16.—The authorities were informed Saturday from a reliable source that an outbreak in the poorer districts of Manila had been carefully planned for daylight on Sunday. It failed to occur, probably on account of the vigorous measures enforced. Many natives of the Tonds district left, taking their valuables. All the small shops, which the guards usually forced to close at 8:30 p. m., were shut at sunset. A general feeling of uneasiness was apparent.

The guards of the city were doubled and a strong force stationed at the slaughter house, the center of an unruly section. Two guns of the Sixth artillery were stationed near by, at a point commanding the native quarters. The commanders of the reserve troops were ordered to be prepared for a call at daylight.

Three native policemen have been arrested on a charge of plotting an uprising. The fact that their comrades informed the authorities of their treachery indicates that the police force is loyal.

Bayan's Stumping Tour.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—William J. Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan and John F. Vreeland, of the Kentucky state Democratic committee, left here yesterday for his speech making campaign in Kentucky and Ohio. At Cairo, Ills., he was taken on board of a special car provided for the trip. Mr. Bryan will deliver 18 speeches in the Blue Grass state and 16 in Ohio.

Marchand Wants to Fight England.

Paris, Oct. 16.—Major Marchand, who commanded the French expedition into the Soudan, it is stated, wished to go and fight the Boers as revenge for being obliged to withdraw from Fashoda, but the government refused him permission to join the Boer forces.

PRESIDENT EASTWARD BOUND.

The Chief Magistrate Spends a Quiet Sunday at Sioux City, Ia.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 16.—Sunday was a quiet day for the presidential party. At 10 o'clock in the morning the train was brought down to the Union station from a siding, and the president and Mrs. McKinley, with some members of the cabinet, were conveyed in carriages to the First Methodist church. Although no announcement had been made of the president's intention to attend services at this church the building was crowded to suffocation and large numbers waited outside, unable to obtain admission. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Robert Bagnell.

After leaving the First Methodist church the party was conducted by members of the local committee to the Sunday school of the Whitfield Methodist church, where the president was presented to the school by ex-Congressman George D. Perkins. Addressing the members of the Sunday school Mr. McKinley said:

"In the moment I shall tarry I have only time to say to this group of young people, and older people, 'Hail and farewell,' and wish for all of them the realization of all that is noble in life and character under a government of high privilege and great opportunity."

Shortly after noon the presidential train was taken from the Union station and again conveyed to a side track, some five miles from the city, in order to avoid the scrutiny of the large crowds which continued to throng about the depot.
large crowds which continued to private car was detached from the train and he and the members of the cabinet were again conveyed to the city, where a quiet dinner was enjoyed by them at the residence of ex-Congressman Perkins. The train left for the east soon after 10 o'clock.

Harris' Shot Proved Fatal.

Baltimore, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Eva Harris, who was shot by her husband, Harry W. Harris, at their home, 15 North Stricker street, last Thursday morning, died late Saturday night at the Maryland University hospital, whither she was removed after being shot. Mrs. Harris did not regain consciousness after being taken to the hospital, and no attempt was made to remove the bullet from her head. Harris has been committed to jail. Mrs. Harris was 24 years old, the daughter of A. Y. Jones, of Renova, Pa. She was married to Harris about two and a half years ago.

Cost of Sending Mails Abroad.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The bureau of navigation has prepared a statement, from the latest available foreign official reports, of steamship companies and mail contracts, showing an annual expenditure of $26,063,688 by foreign nations on their merchant shipping. The United States, it is shown, paid to American vessels for ocean mails $1,038,141 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898. The mails to Great Britain cost $5,762,572, to Germany $1,894,620, and to France $7,632,242.

Suffocated in a Hotel Fire.

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The Windsor hotel was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, and Wallace C. Hall, a drummer for a Philadelphia publishing company, was suffocated. All the other guests escaped in their night clothes, losing all their baggage. The porter of the hotel alone saved the lives of ten women. There were many very narrow escapes. The property loss will exceed $50,000.

Thrown From a Carriage to Death.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 16.—While a carriage was being driven down Maysville Park hill, near here, late last night, the horse ran away at sharp curve, and the conveyance upset, throwing out the occupants and instantly killing Mrs. Isaac Goodman, the wife of a prominent Mt. Carmel physician. Mrs. Anna Belter and Mrs. August Czenski, also of Mt. Carmel, were seriously cut and bruised. It is believed that Mrs. Belter is also suffering from internal injuries.

Avenged Her Husband's Murder.

Niles, O., Oct. 16.—Frank Augusta was shot and killed last evening in the Italian quarter by Mrs. Tauro, who was arrested and lodged in jail at Warren. About four months ago Dominick Tauro was fatally stabbed in a fight and on his deathbed told his wife Augusta had stabbed him. The shooting of Augusta is the sequel. Mrs. Tauro has a 5-months-old baby, which she took to jail with her.

Murder at a Christening.

Springfield, Ills., Oct. 16.—During the christening of a child yesterday at Auburn, 20 miles from Springfield, a riot started between Hungarians and Polaks, and Stephen Roskie, a Hungarian, was instantly killed. Several others are said to have been injured. Two men, believed to be the murderers of Roskie, are being held by the latter's friends. It is said the foreigners will resist arrest, and serious trouble may result. The riot was the outcome of a feud of long standing.

EDITORIAL.

Democratic stump orators who were insisting in 1896 that there could be no prosperity without free trade and free silver will, perhaps, be interested to know that the failures in September, 1899, amounted to less than one-fourth of those of September, 1896, the very month in which they were trying to induce people to accept their political nostrums. The failures in September, 1896, were, according to Dun's Review, $29,774,917, while for September, 1897, they had fallen to $10,309,935; for September, 1898, to $8,868,019, and for September, 1899, they were but $6,979,684, the lowest record in September failures since the keeping of these records began.

WHY VOTE FOR A DEMOCRAT?

Editor Republican:

The Democratic candidates for county offices are traversing every nook and corner of the county in search of votes. They so far have not been known to pass a single Republican anywhere without buttonholing him for his vote. Now, the question arises, under what obligations to the Democratic candidates is any Republican in Centre County? Have they ever been known to vote for a Republican candidate? I doubt it very much and so do others whose votes have been asked for by Democratic candidates. Let every Republican who is approached by these men ask them the above questions. This will settle the matter. Republicans of Centre County should support to a man the Republican candidates. They are all good men, loyal Republicans, and they have a right to ask for and expect Republican support. Why vote for a Democrat?

G. O. P.

The above communication contains several pertinent inquiries and good, sound advice that is deserving of careful and thoughtful consideration on the part of the Centre County Republicans. It is indeed difficult to imagine what obligations the Republicans of the county are under to the Democratic candidates. From a political standpoint we unhesitatingly say, none whatever in our opinion. To the second query "Have they ever been known to vote for a Republican candidate?" we must say we do not know, hence we cannot definitely reply to the question. We venture the assertion, however, that as staunch, rock-ribbed Democrats, as they are styled by the Democratic press of the county, they have always swallowed the Democratic dose without the least compunction or remorse. The question asked by the correspondent "Why vote for a Democrat?" is one that every Republican voter in Centre County should ask himself and seriously reflect upon it before reaching a conclusion. Here are a few thoughts to be considered at the same time; they touch upon the question in mind.

Democratic success in the county strengthens and increases the power and influence of the Democratic party, and impairs and weakens the Republican organization. Surely, no loyal, true-blue Republican wishes to hinder and retard the progress of his party, particularly when victory and Republican ascendancy in old Centre is within our grasp. There are but two ways by which this can be accomplished, namely: Neglect to vote or cut your ticket; either will be acceptable to the Democrats. You serve their purpose well if you stay away from the polls or if you scratch your ballot in the interest of one or more of their candidates. Do neither, Republicans of Centre County. The County Convention named an admirable list of nominees for your suffrage. Every man on the ticket is worthy of your support and confidence. Every man is of exemplary character, honest, trustworthy, capable, and qualified for the office each seeks. Not one of them should be sacrificed in the interest of any Democratic candidate. There is not a single man on the Democratic ticket who is superior to his Republican opponent in character or qualification. In this statement we give several of the Democratic candidates the benefit of a doubt. The Democratic candidates represent a political enemy whose election means Republican retrogression in Centre County. Every Republican vote given to a Democratic candidate must be construed as a Republican acknowledgment of the dearth of capable men in the Republican ranks to acceptably hold public office. This we all know not to be true, yet the defeat of the Republican ticket this fall will be construed as an admission of the inability of the organization in Centre County to nominate a ticket that can inspire the confidence and support of the people. Whatever may have been lacking in the County Republican tickets in the past, no fault can be found with the ticket now in the field. Its standard is of the highest. Republicans of Centre County stick to your ticket. Do not cut a single candidate. Vote straight. Stand firm and loyal to our nominees and a Republican victory will be credited to the Republicans of Centre County when the ballots are counted on election night.

Although tin-plate is a subject very sore to the average Democratic politician, a brave attempt was made during the recent tin-plate strike to make Democratic capital even at the risk of bringing up the whole history of tin-plate in this country and exposing the utter fallacy of Democratic prophesies on the subject. No one has forgotten, not even Democrats, though they would like to, that Grover Cleveland and other such Americans predicted, at the time of the enactment of the McKinley law, that the manufacture of tin-plate in this country was impossible and that to place a duty on this article was a tariff crime. The subsequent growth of the industry in the United States, with the lowering of price which always accompanies increased production, the formation of the trust and the increase of wages of its employes about 15 per cent., aggregating a distribution of one million dollars more in wage money in the localities where plate is made are also facts which have not been forgotten, though they have caused much pain to the Democratic faithful. But perhaps it is not so well known that at a recent meeting of the Swansea South Wales Tin-Plate Masters' Association it was decided necessary to accept a ten per cent. wage reduction throughout the trade, meaning nearly a million dollars less in wage money to be distributed in Wales. Of course, Democrats, rather than see their prophesies falsified would doubtless prefer to see the tin-plate industry fail in the United States, the wages in this country reduced a million dollars, and a like amount restored to the Wales tin-plate workers. Fortunately American wage earners can think for themselves and so can distinguish between policies.

The shouts of gladness with which the election of McKinley was heralded were not mistakes. That the prosperity which followed the election, the restoration of a protective tariff, and the rejection of the silver proposition, has been such as to enable people to reduce their indebtedness is well evidenced by the following table showing the mortgages filed and released in each year from 1892 to 1898 in Mr. Bryan's own state, Nebraska. It will be observed that in each year prior to 1896 the mortgages filed far exceeded those released. while in 1897 and 1898 the mortgages released exceeded those filed from 25 to 33 per cent. These conditions are Nebraska's refutation of Bryanism and its doctrines. They are the farmer's reply to demagogism which attempted to mislead him in 1896, and wants to do it again in the present and coming campaign, though the issues and the arguments are slightly retouched.

The following table shows the mortgages filed and released in Nebraska in each year from 1892 to 1898:

	Filed.	Released.
1892	$38,847,633	$31,912,276
1893	34,601,318	26,178,746
1894	31,690,054	26,438,090
1895	25,753,365	22,648,917
1896	16,474,606	18,213,382
1897	15,630,721	22,215,759
1898	21,303,855	27,498,070

The managers of the Philadelphia Export Exposition, while not complaining about the prosperity and business activity of the country, make no hesitation in saying that they should have had a far better display but for the fact that manufacturers were too busy to prepare exhibits. "The manufacturers said to me," remarked President Wilson, in discussing the subject, "that they had from six months' to two years' orders ahead, and that they were therefore unable to spare the time to prepare special exhibits or to prepare such additional orders as the exhibits might bring them."

Every Republican voter in Centre County doubtless knows Jacob S. Herman, the Republican candidate for Sheriff. Those who know him intimately and well know that all he has in worldly goods he owes to patient, plodding industry. The success that he has met with in life, particularly in his present vocation, that of huckstering which he has followed for twenty years or more, is due entirely to his honest, square and fair dealing with his fellow-citizens. Mr. Herman is in truth a man of the people, belonging as he does to the less fortunate—from a monetary standpoint—class of our people, he knows personally the struggles and hardships of these people whom fortune seems to frown upon. He is always found ready to extend a helping hand to his needy neighbor. The jovial, big-hearted Republican candidate for Sheriff of Centre County is known throughout the length and breadth of the county and wherever he goes he is among friends and well-wishers who respect him and admire his good, honest, sterling qualities. He is amply endowed mentally and physically for the office of Sheriff. He would be true to the trust, faithful to the county and mindful of the interests of the people. He is not a close-fisted, avaricious man who would accumulate earthly riches at the expense of his fellowman. "Jake" Herman's principle is "live and let live" and "help a man up when he is down." Pretty good doctrine for a Sheriff to have. Moreover he is a Republican, a first-class thoroughgoing Republican. He is entitled to and worthy of your support, Republicans of Centre County. See that he receives it on November 7th.

James B. Strohm, the Republican candidate for Register of Centre County, has demonstrated as County Commissioner and Commissioners' Clerk his peculiar fitness and qualification for public office. Everybody in Centre County knows Jim Strohm; for anyone to confess he does not is to confess himself unknown. Mr. Strohm twice served the people of Centre County as Commissioner and once as Commissioners' Clerk. The splendid record he made in these positions proved him to be one of the best and cleanest, the most exacting and correct officials the county ever had. His previous experience at the county capital gave him an insight to the duties and requirements of every office under the county government. The records of the County Commissioners' office during his term as clerk to the Board are a marvel of neatness and accuracy, and an evidence of his efficiency and competency. Mr. Strohm would make an ideal Register. A better one cannot be found. The people of Centre County are to be congratulated for having such a man of his character and ability to vote for. If fitness and qualification is desired in public office there should be no question of Mr. Strohm's election.

A Centre County Republican convention never named a better candidate for Recorder than Nelson E. Robb, of Walker township. Mr. Robb comes from one of Centre County's most stalwart and steadfast Republican families. Though a young man—in his thirtieth year—he is one of our active and aggressive Republican leaders. He is intellectually equipped for any office in the county and his varied experience in business life adds largely to his natural ability. As Commissioners' Clerk Mr. Robb has measured up to every requirement of the position. His courteous attention to the patrons of the office, his gentlemanly and decorous deportment in and out of office has won for him the respect and esteem of all who know him. The responsibilities and obligations of the Recorder's office could not be intrusted to better hands.

The suggestion that Congressman Lentz be sent to the Philippines to get information in support of the Little American party is probably made in the hope of getting Mr. Lentz out of Ohio during the remainder of the campaign, as his lurid speeches in support of everything anarchistic and against everything looking to good order and prosperity are benefitting, far more than they are injuring, the Republican cause. Mr. Lentz, however, is enough of a lawyer to know that a mission intended for the aid and comfort of the enemies of the government would be liable to lead to serious results, and it is believed that he will not seriously consider it.

Do you know that John K. Thompson would make one of the best, if not the best, County Treasurers Centre County has ever had? He is strictly honest. He has had a thorough business training and is exceptionally qualified in every way. His pleasing address and genial disposition combined with his unquestioned ability admirably fits him for public office. Vote for John K. Thompson, the Republican candidate for County Treasurer. He is an up-to-date man, abreast with the times, wide awake, energetic and trustworthy. He will serve you well and will administer the affairs of the office to which he aspires in a way that is sure to win the approval of all concerned. Vote for Thompson; he is the right man and for the right place.

Dr. P. H. Leitzell, of Spring Mills, the Republican candidate for Coroner of Centre County, is one of the most promising members of the medical profession in the county. He has been thoroughly educated for his life-work and his success thus far in his profession is proof of his ability and application. A better coroner could not be elected. Vote for Dr Leitzell and secure the services of a thoroughly efficient and capable official.

Our candidates for Auditors of Centre County, Archibald Allison, of Gregg township, and E. H. Williams, of Huston township, are first-class men and will make first-class officials. They are reliable and competent men and can be relied upon in doing their duty honestly and without fear or favor. Vote for Allison and Williams.

HOT SHOT FOR THE ENEMY.

They Lead the Advance For the Battle of the Ballots on Tuesday, November 7.

The control of the Democratic party, in the national and state organizations, says the Citizen Press, of Franklin, Pa., is in the hands of the disreputable and anarchistic element, which is placing the honest, intelligent and patriotic Democrats in a false position, so long as they silently permit their names to be used as the supports of the plaforms erected and the policy expressed by the Altgelds, Bryans and other "statesmen" who assume to speak for the party. However, one by one of the heretofore prominent Democrats are placing themselves on record as opposed to the copperheadism which is manifested by the rabid leaders of the party and will emphasize their protests by voting the Republican ticket in November, hoping by such action to relegate to the rear the wild eye repudiationists now in control, and thereby save the party organization for the future. This course seems to be the only one open for them to pursue at this time and maintain their self respect.

Ex-Governor Pattison, of this state, is the latest to repudiate the policy laid down for the government of the party by Altgeld and Bryan, points out that patriotism is higher than party. "My duty as an American citizen," says he, "commands my support of the country's president at this juncture. When the president said in his Pittsburg speech that the Philippines were just as much American soil as were Texas and Alaska he spoke the truth. The islands are ours by title of treaty, and we have no title to Louisiana or Alaska except that confirmed by treaty. As they are ours, we are bound to see them pacified, to set up law and order in their midst."

This is the solemn fact, and people who throw obstacles in the way of the pacification of the Philippines are aiding and abetting the rebellion, and those Democrats who are of the same opinion should show their patriotism by voting the Republican ticket this fall. It is the only way to make themselves effective. Votes count.

A REPUBLICAN YEAR.

"This ought to be an easy year for Republican success. It does not require oral or written argument to induce men to vote the Republican ticket," says the Everett (Pa.) Press. "Argument and appeals fall on listless ears in the face of well known facts. When free traders cry out that the tariff robs you, the laborer answers with a shrug, 'Well, under your free trade we had no work and nothing of which to be robbed. Now, under protection, work is plenty, wages are good, or at least good in comparison with Democratic times, and we have plenty to eat, clothes to wear, and can send our children to school.' The tramp days of Democratic ascendency are over. When they tell you that free silver will bring greater prosperity, the answer is, well let well enough alone; you have fooled us already too often to our sorrow; we will want more than theories now to induce us to leave the party under whose sway we have received and are enjoying the present good things. No Mr. Democracy for us."

CRITICAL PERIODS

In Woman's Life Are Made Dangerous by Pelvic Catarrh.

Mrs. Mathilde Richter.

Mrs. Mathilde Richter, Doniphan Neb., says:

"I suffered from catarrh for many years, but since I have been taking Peru-na I feel strong and well. I would advise all people to try Pe-ru-na. As I used Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin while I was passing through the change of life, I am positively convinced your beneficial remedies have relieved me from all my ills."

Pe-ru-na has raised more women from beds of sickness and set them to work again than any other remedy. Pelvic catarrh is the bane of womankind. Peru-na is the bane of catarrh in all forms and stages. Mrs. Col. Hamilton, Columbus, O., says: "I recommend Pe-ru-na to women, believing it to be especially beneficial to them."

FARMERS AND THE TARIFF.

"The American farmers should be pretty well satisfied with the new tariff law," remarks the Wilkesbarre Times. "Here is the official record of the exportation of leading farm products in the last year of the Dingley law, compared with those of the last year of the Wilson law:

	Wilson Law. Fiscal Year 1897.	Dingley Law. Fiscal Year 1899.
Breadstuffs all	$197,857,219	$273,999,639
Wheat	59,920,178	104,269,169
Flour	58,914,247	73,093,870
Corn, bushels	176,916,365	174,089,094
Oats, bushels	25,006,730	30,309,680
Rye, bushels	8,560,271	10,140,876
Oatmeal, pounds	47,310,151	58,042,505
Provisions	138,652,726	175,568,605

Cottonseed oil, gal.	27,198,882	50,627,213

"And this is the sort of prosperity the Democrats condemned at their last county convention."

DON'T FORGET THE DATE.

Free trade and soup houses. Protection and prosperity. We had the first under Democratic rule and prosperity came with Republican success," says the Franklin (Pa.) Citizen-Press. "Vote to continue the latter party in power, on Tuesday, Nov. 7. Don't forget the date."

STATES VIOLATE SWISS TREATY.

As a Result Our Government Must Surrender the Convention.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The state department has regretfully come to the conclusion that the existing treaty between the United States and Switzerland must be terminated, and steps in that direction soon will be taken. The necessity for this course arises from the action of certain of the state governments in enforcing local laws which in their operation prevent Swiss insurance companies from doing business in those states. While these laws were not aimed directly at the Swiss companies, yet providing as they do for discriminatory taxes against foreign corporations, they constitute a direct violation of the treaty between the United States and Switzerland, whereby the United States guaranteed to Swiss concerns the same rights to do business within the limits of the United States as are enjoyed by United States corporations. It is felt that it would be useless for the national government to remonstrate with the governments of the states which have thus violated the treaty, so there is nothing to be done but to surrender the convention.

THE PRESIDENT AT KALAMAZOO.

Commercial Travelers His Escort in the Michigan City.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 18.—This city entertained the presidential party in a novel way last night. A carnival and street fair were in progress. The United Commercial Travelers, 2,500 strong, were delegated to furnish the entertainment. Senator Burrows met the president at Chicago and was reinforced by another committee at Niles. When the train reached here a hundred carriages drew up, and a procession was formed with President McKinley and cabinet in front. On each side of the carriages marched a commercial traveler, carrying a flambeau of red fire. The streets were decorated for miles, and at least a hundred thousand people brought in by excursions thronged the sidewalks. As the president appeared cheer after cheer ran down the long line, and was taken up by people in the booths on side streets. The drive lasted 40 minutes and no speaking was indulged in. At 9 o'clock the presidential party departed for Jackson.

THEY ALL SPEAK FOR THEIR PARTY

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

"I am glad to participate with the families, friends and fellow citizens of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers in this glad reunion. You have earned the plaudits not alone of the people of Pennsylvania, but of the whole nation. You made secure and permanent the victory of Dewey. You added new glory to the American arms. Every one of the noble men, of the regulars or volunteers, soldiers or seamen, who thus signally served their country in its extremity (remained in the service after the expiration of their period of their enlistment) deserves the special recognition of congress, and it will be to me an unfeigned pleasure to recommend for each man a special medal of honor. The government to which you gave your love and loyalty welcomes you to your homes. With no blot or stain upon your record, the story of your unselfish service to country and to civilization will be to the men who take your places at the front and on the firing line, and to future generations, an example of patriotism and an inspiration to duty."—President McKinley to Lieut. Col. Barnett and his comrades of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, at Pittsburg.

SECRETARY OF STATE HAY.

"It is the duty of every Republican, no matter in what state he may live, to go to the polls next month and support the nominees of his party, and by so doing assist in bringing about a sweeping Republican triumph throughout the country. Nothing could be more gratifying to the Republican national administration and nothing could give more encouragement to the president in carrying out the policies he has outlined. Enemies of the country and the political opponents of our party would rejoice over a falling off of the Republican vote this fall. No more patriotic duty can be performed by Republican citizens than going to the polls and casting a straight Republican ballot and by getting their neighbors to do likewise. Next year's presidential contest is already under way. Republicans should be on the alert."—Secretary of State Hay, in recent interview.

SECRETARY OF WAR ROOT.

"Republicanism this year means, as it has ever meant, loyalty to our country, belief in the inviolability of public faith, an unfailing adherence to honest government and honest money, and an undying devotion to the honor and integrity of the flag, wherever it floats, carried by our soldiers or sailors on land or sea This year all these qualities are accentuated in a marked degree, and the Republican who fails to go to the polls and cast a stalwart Republican ballot will ever regret having failed to take advantage of one of the grandest opportunities of his life to show his devotion to and practical and timely allegiance to the party, which means so much to the continued welfare of our people. The greater the Republican vote this fall the greater will be the incentive to Republican leaders to prepare for the great national struggle next year."—Secretary of War Root, in a recent interview.

SECRETARY OF NAVY LONG.

"It is the indifferent and stay-at-home voter that the party managers should direct their attention to this fall. These are the men who are so preoccupied with their business interests that they frequently do not appreciate the importance of a political campaign until after the election returns are announced. Then, if the result is not as they desired, they feel the sting of remorse and realize the result of their own negligence. This fall there is more than usual danger to the Republican party from the indifferent citizen. Our prosperous conditions naturally divert the minds of many from matters of public moment. The party workers should single out these voters and at the proper time see that they go to the polls. If they get them there, we need have no fear of them voting the Democratic ticket. The thing to do is to get them there—the intelligence of the voter will do the rest."—Secretary Long, in a recent interview.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT.

"Are the people so short sighted that they forget the miseries of six years ago? Do they forget the bread riots, the squalid want even of those able and anxious to work? We cannot by any laws bring happiness and prosperity to every one, but we can do what the Republican party has done; that is, by wise legislation and wise administration secure the chance for the bulk of our people to live out their lives and do their work with the odds as much as possible in their favor. This is a national contest. We appeal not merely to party, but beyond party; we appeal to all good citizens, to all patriotic Americans, to stand with us as we uphold the financial integrity and the conditions which stand for material prosperity at home, as we uphold the honor of the flag and the interests of the nation abroad."—Governor Roosevelt, in his recent Akron, O., speech.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN HANNA.

"There is no doubt that the state elections this fall will be taken as an index of the sentiment of the American people upon the issues of the approaching national campaign. It is, therefore, important that every Republican vote shall be cast in November for the candidates on the Republican state tickets in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa and other states in which there are local contests for important offices. All our Republican majorities this year should be as large as possible to emphasize the popular feeling. The industrial conditions and the Philippine war will prove factors in the coming campaign. The Philippine war has been made an issue by the Democratic party, but we have nothing to fear. I would as lief have so-called anti-expansion made an issue as I would have the silver question, for silver is an old man of the sea. I am not afraid of the outcome among the people. They will not, I believe, by their own act, change the condition of the country. Republicans everywhere should go to the polls this fall."—Republican National Chairman Hanna, in recent interview.

CENTRE HALL HAPPENINGS.

Centre Hall can now hold its head up on a level with some of our big cities; it has had a strike.

The boys and girls working in the Evaporating factory struck for higher wages, and as the plant has several thousand bushels of apples on hand and more coming in every day the management couldn't afford to shut down, so the boys and girls won the strike.

It is rumored that next year a Canning and Preserving factory, will be added to the Evaporating plant, which if it materializes will be a great advantage to our farmers.

Jeff W. Brown, Milroy's enterprising tailor passed through this place one day last week, on his way to visit his uncle Alfred Brown at Pennsylvania Furnace. During his trip he took a number of orders for suits of clothing.

Dr. John I Robison, who located in this place a few weeks ago has returned to State College. He made a short stay, yet he made a host of friends and also demonstrated the fact that although a young physician he is thoroughly skilled in his profession, and many of our citizens earnestly wish he would return and resume his practice here.

Dr. Park our new doctor has hung out his shingle and now stands ready to administer to the wants and needs of the sick.

Dr. George Lee who moved from Madisonsburg to Centre Hall this summer has been kept quite busy of late which shows that the reputation he earned in his former field of labor has followed him.

Dr. J. F. Alexandor, who, on account of ill health, had resigned his practice in favor of Dr. Robertson, has by the later's withdrawal been compelled to resume practice.

Centre Hall has a sensation on its hands in the shape of an elopement. A young married man has deserted his wife and gone off with a neighbor's domestic.

Rev. Eisenberg of the Reformed church and, Rev. Christine of the Presbyterian church each resigned. Rev. Eisenberg will leave by the first of November but Rev. Christine will probably remain until Spring.

W. W. Boob, is building a buggy for a Washington State man that is a novelty. The tire is two inches wide and as thick as that on an ordinary truck wagon, and the axles are one and a fourth inches in thickness. Outside of the springs, which are lighter in proportion than the remainder of the running geer, it is guaranteed to carry a weight of fifteen hundred pounds.

What terrible roads they must have out beyond the Rocky Mountains.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a widow and three sons, C. W; J. H. B. and William, and five daughters. Mary E. married to H. H. Harshberger; Anna M. married to Willis Weber; Amelia M. married to Leonard Stover; Lydia R. wife of P. P. Leitzell, and Minnie wife of Adam Harter. three children died in infancy. The subject of this notice was born in Lehigh Co. April, 19, 1820. About 1824, Simon Hartman the father, moved with his family to Hartley township. Union Co. In 1839 the subject of this notice, in the month of May came to Millheim, a poor boy, with all his worldly possessions on his back, but full of ambition. He worked for John Harter at the wagonmaking trade. for a few years. In 1843 he married Miss Margaret Harter. a daughter of his employer. Soon after his marriage he commenced peddling the Hathaway cook stove. After some time he in company with the late J. D Foote purchased the foundry owned by Haupt, Cummings and Co. A WAY THEY HAVE.

What This Bellefonte citizen says Only Corroborates the story of thousands.

If the particulars related by this representative citizen of Bellefonte in directly were not similar to hundred of others in this city, the readers might have some cause to doubt them, but when there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, the greatest skeptic in Bellefonte must be convinced. Read this:

Mr. James Rine, of No. 2 Thomas street employed in the Planing mill, says:—"I can speak as highly now of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did years ago and my case is pretty good evidence that the cures made by them are not temporary. I have not had any of the severe pains in my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills while before, I suffered intensely. I used to be so bad that I could not put on my shoes and could hardly drag myself around. Though I have had slight touches of backache it never amounted to much. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to hundreds of people and I know of those who have had the greatest relief from suffering by using them. I can say that they are reliable and permanent in their effects."

FOR MONEY.

"I saw Mrs. and Mr. Mary du Barry pass just now; the carriage been newly lined this spring and looks quite fresh."

"Dr. Luke, I am ashamed of you." said Miss Howard, earnestly. "How dare you cast a slur like that upon your friend when you have sat at his table and partaken of his hospitality."

"My friend? I beg your pardon, but Francis Hall is no friend of mine, nor does his marriage with Mary du Barry make him so. He has no table where one may dine, no hospitality to offer. I was her physician before he ever saw her. I am that now. If I eat at her table it is no more than I have been in the habit of doing. He is a coarse, gross man, and does not appreciate her refined nature."

"He is not coarse or gross!" cried out Miss Howard, with a sharp pain in her voice. "He is a gentleman, and we like him, don't we, Gussie?" appealing to her sister, a fair, blue-eyed girl.

"No," answered Gussie, very quietly; "you know perfectly well that I do not like him. I suppose one is perfectly safe in calling him a 'gentleman' because he wears fine cloth and has it cut to fit his burly little figure as advantageously as possible. But, in my opinion, a gentleman has a gentle heart, and he has no heart whatever, being thoroughly vain and selfish to the core."

A look of intense suffering crossed Miss Howard's face, but she said nothing more.

Meanwhile the carriage referred to drive slowly homeward and stopped before a handsome house uptown.

Francis Hall, a grave, quiet-lookinh man of 35, alighted, and lifting his wife in his arms, bore her carefully up the broad marble steps. A watchful servant opened the door, handed the old lady a crutch and assisted her to her room.

"I am going out," Mr. Hall simply remarked.

"But you will be back soon?" she querulously asked, as she sank into an easy chair.

"Yes, very soon," he answered, soothingly.

"And you will order me some grapes?"

"Yes, the finest I can find."

He stood with his hand on the door; he longed for an hour of freedom; he wanted to be alone. But suddenly her voice recalled him.

"Mr. Hall, I am going to have an attack; don't go out now."

He tried to speak calmly as he said:

"But Martha knows better than I do how to deal with these attacks. I can do you no good."

"Oh, you never want to stay with me a minute, and I suffer so terribly," she complained; and straightway the "attack" came on—a sort of nervous spasm, partly hysterical and partly a disordered action of the heart.

In about half an hour she had fallen asleep from sheer exhaustion, and, taking his hat. Mr Hall hurried out.

"I'll have a horse saddled and I'll ride to the devil!' he said, desperately; then added: "No, I won't. Curse the horses! Curse every infernal thing that her money has bought and my freedom has paid for! I'll walk, walk, walk to the end of the earth and there launch myself off into space and—Oh, Lord!', for a servant stood before him, saying, respectfully:

"The mistress is awake and bade me find you."

"Tell her I have gone down town and you could not overtake me," he said, starting off at a rapid pace and leaving the grinning darkey to carry the message back and listen to the complaints it called forth.

There was the park, not far away The trees were gaunt and leafless, the walks brown and bare but the warm spring sunshine was delightfully tempting, and so he "walked, walked," until, thoroughly weary, he took a seat on a rustic bench and went on thinking:

"If she would only let me attend to any kind of business, or speculate, or drive out alone, or go to the club, or anything, without that eternal whining and complaining!"

Gradually his thoughts went back to the time when he was a poor clerk and Fanny Howard was attending the drawing school at Cooper Institute. "How transparent and unaffected was her love for him, poor girl; how——"

His thoughts were interrupted by the appearance of the same servant who had intercepted him as he left the house.

"The mistress is dead:', said the man, gravely, "and I was bade to bring you home as soon as possible."

"Dead!" His heart gave a great bound and then seemed to lie still, as though it would suffocate him.

How he reached home he never knew or how the next few crowded, confused days went by; but again he escaped from the house, alone, and wandered in the park, and again his thoughts took him out of himself and away from his present life.

"He would sell everything that ever had been hers and bury the money beside her grave in Greenwood, then he would go out into the world, free and earn the roof that sheltered, the bread that nourished him; and perhaps——" As if to continue his train of thought, Fanny Howard appeared in sight.

She had been to give a drawing lesson over on the west side of town, and was going home across the park. She looked startled when he spoke to her, but smiled, such a glad, happy smile that he forgot all else on earth and remembered only that she was with him.

"You are weary," he said, watching her face pale slowly, after its first flush of delight. "Will you rest a little while?"

Without a word of demur she nestled beside him in a sheltered nook her very eyes brimming over with the restful content of her soul.

He ment to talk only of the most commonplace subjects, and the first words he heard himself saying were,

"And have you loved me, darling all this weary while?"

"All this weary while," she answered, dreamily, "as flowers love sunshine or as bees love flowers."

"And you will wait for me?"

"Forever and forever, if need be.,"

He saw her red lips thrilling with their sensitive sweetness; he remembered from the old time their clinging warmth; he had hungered and thirsted through all his bondage for their comforting touch; he would, have a million kisses by-and-by when the days of decorous waiting (not mourning) were over, but he wanted one now—just one, whose memory should go with him when he could not see her face; he bent his head with quick, delicious daring and his lips touched something cold and hard. The shock awoke him.

He was sitting alone in the park, with his face pressed close against the castiron arm of the settee upon which he was resting—and those hot house grapes were not ordered yet.

He stood up. The yawn that parted his lips was the stifled howl of a hungry heart.

The two clinched hands that he raised toward Heaven held, the one a prayer, the other an imprecation. Then he settled his hat carefully on his head and walked homeward to listen with never faultering courtesy to the long list of complaints that he knew were waiting for him there; to hear his heartlessness duly bewailed, his unsympathizing nature whined about and his duty as a husband descanted upon.

Surely the green sods of untold battlefields do not cover all our martyrs.

A LEGEND OF KING ALFRED.

At the age of 22 Alfred, son of Ethelwolf, ascended the throne of W esex, as the West-Saxon kingdom was called.

Three elder brothers had worn the English crown, and each and all the croaking Danish raven had driven to an early grave.

The fierce sea kings, the Northmen, occupied nearly all of England.

An empty honor was the kingship of England when young Alfred came to the throne. Nearly all the land was captive to the Dane. Seven years did Alfred gripe the scepter and draw the sword of royalty.

One by one the powerful English nobles fled abroad, leaving their boy monarch to face alone the bitter blasts of adversity.

Seven years of toil and shame! Hard pressed, more than once the royal boy had taken refuge in some humble cottage abode and earned his bread by the sweat of his brow.

But after seven long and weary years were over a brighter day dawned for England and for England's king.

In the willow thickets of Selwood forest the fens of Athelimgay, Alfred found refuge and got together a small band of daring hearts willing to risk limb and life for their dauntless king and their native land.

Wrapped in secure confidence, the Danes dreamed not of danger from the king without a kingdom, the monarch without subjects and the general without an army.

'Twas a sudden waking from a blissful dream when Alfred, at the head of a few hundred men, came down upon an intrenched Danish camp at the midnight hour and drove the savage Northern warriors before him like a flock of frightened sheep, and then retreated as suddenly as he had appeared to the inaccessible recesses of Selwood forest. Athlingay, the "Isle of Nobies," was well named, for never were a nobler band of brave hearts ever gathered beneath the blue heavens than the stalwart Englishmen led by royal Alfred.

Again and again the young king swooped, like an eagle, from his fens upon the Danes. Sudden and unexpected were the attacks; brilliant and decisive were the victories won. All England took heart, and little by little the royal army increased, until at last Alfred could control a good thousand men ranged beneath his banner. Then he boldly dared the foe in open daylight.

Rough Rollo, straight descended from the ancient sea king who laid waste the fertile fields of France, led three thousand men up to the thickets of Selwood. the famous raven, the enchanted standard of the Northmen. floated from the center of his host. And as the bold Northman marshaled his forces upon the edge of the forest, like a thunder-clap Alfred, with his English, fell upon him. Down went the raven banner, down went the stout Danish leader, crimsoning his black bird with his blood.

Short and savage was the fight, and within an hour a thousand Northmen were lying helpless on the field, and the rest, panic-stricken fugitives, were flying for their lives. The raven banner remained in Alfred's possession as a proud pledge of victory.

And then, as if bursting the sleepy bonds that had restrained them, all England rose up as one man and hastened to offer their swords to the victorious Alfred.

No more did the Danish leaders worry England in small bands; they dreaded Alfred's power and all flocked to the intrenched camp of Guthrum, at Eddendune, near Westbury.

Guthrum sat in his great tent, surrounded by the flower of his warriors. Night had fallen, and, as the Danes were drinking deeply and vaunting loud their warlike deeds, there came to the camp two wandering minstrels who craved permission to amuse the Danish chief.

They were gladly admitted, and played and sang so sweetly that Guthrum swore that they must have stolen their art from the gods themselves.

They played and sang to the Northmen, and as they did so they marked the number of the troops, the manner of their arms, the way of keeping guard and the weak points of the intrenched camp, No single particular did they fail to note, and, finally, when they were dismissed beyond the lines of the Northmen, a correct plan of the camp each minstrel carried in his head.

Blind were the Danes, for the minstrel boy was England's Alfred and the aged man was the learned Asser, the Welchman, his lifelong friend, disguisd.

At 12 of the next night the Northman awoke from his drowsy sleep with the English war cry ringing in his ears.

Thanks to the knowledge gained by the minstrels, the English had entered the intrenched camp almost without resistance. Short and decisive was the struggle. The field of Eddendune was won and the Northmen defeated with terrible slaughter.

The blood of that battle was the cement of Alfred's monarchy. To the minstrels he owed his success.

Hidden Beauty

In Egypt the custom is for Princesses to hide their beauty by covering the lower part of the face with a veil. In America the beauty of many of our women is hidden because of the weakness and sickness peculiar to the sex. If the Egyptian custom prevailed in this country, many sufferers would be glad to cover their premature wrinkles, their sunken cheeks, their unhealthy complexion, from the eyes of the world with the veil of the Orient.

THE BOERS RETREATING

Evident Desire to Avoid a Pitched Battle With the Britons.

THE BOERS OCCUPY NEWCASTLE.

A General Belief That the Boers Are Attacking Mafeking, But the Reports Lack Confirmation—The Adventurous Journey of a Hospital Train.

London, Oct. 16.—At 9 o'clock last evening the government had received no news of fighting in South Africa and did not expect any, believing that no battle is probable except at Mafeking, communication with which place has been cut, and for which considerable anxiety is felt. Elsewhere, however, it is believed the British will remain on the defensive. Lord Salisbury has issued a summons for a cabinet meeting today.

Owing to the rigorous censorship maintained, news from the front is greatly delayed and reaches here in disjointed dispatches.

It is learned from an authentic source that a large number of troops, including cavalry, artillery and infantry left Ladysmith early Friday morning with wagons, going in the direction of Acton Homes, where the Boers are reported to be encamped.

The Dublin Fusileers arrived from Glencoe by train at 11 o'clock and proceeded in the same direction. There has been no engagement, the Boers retreating. The British troops remain at a point ten miles from Ladysmith with the exception of the Dublin Fusileers, who returned to Glencoe, General Sir William Symons having wired that an attack was expected there Saturday morning.

The Boers possess Brakwal Station, 25 miles west of Ladysmith, and detachments have also been seen by carbineers at Besters, two stations nearer. The carbineers retired and the Boers retreated in the direction of Brakwal.

President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, and President Kruger, of the Transvaal, maintain direct telephone connection.

Aliewalnorth dispatches say that Freerebridge, which heretofore has been a great aid to Boer spies, is now closed and guarded by Cape police.

It is rumored that the Beeste Kraal commando, strengthened by 800 Boers from Smithfield, is menacing Aliewalnorth.

A Kaffir brought to Vryburg by the returning hospital train says he passed the scene of the recent armored train disaster, and saw several bodies of white men laying there.

MAP OF TRANSVAAL.

There is still no reliable news from either Ladysmith or Glencoe, except that a patrol from the latter place exchanged shots with a small body of Boers on the road to Helpmakear. All reports agree that the Boers now occupy Newcastle.

Boer tents have been discovered eight miles southeast of Kimberley. Great clouds of dust seen ten miles to the eastward of Kimberley yesterday seem to indicate the movement of a large body of troops with wagons. Two imperial officers at midday also discovered a column of 400 Boers going in the direction of Modder river bridge from Johannesburg. Small parties of Boers, evidently on a commandeering expedition, have passed Kaffir river. There are large commandos on either side of the railway. The burghers say they will have 2,000 men. They probably intend to join the other force in camp seven miles from the Cape Colony border.

Five Boer troops occupy Border Siding, northward of Fourteen Streams, with cannon, where they are awaiting orders to destroy the line or attack Fourteen Streams.

The railway telegraph officials have abandoned Maribogo. The nearest British point of communication to Mafeking, therefore, is understood to be Setlagoli, 60 miles away.

While it is the general belief that the Boers are attacking Mafeking, there is still no confirmation of the reports. If the Boers had met with any success it would surely have been announced, as the only telegraphic communication is in the hands of the burghers. The absence of news, therefore, is regarded as a good sign.

A hospital train that started for Maribogo has just returned to Vryburg after an adventurous journey. It had reached a curve on a culvert 700 yards south of Maribogo, and had just slackened speed, when it was observed that the rails ahead had been upturned. The brakes were applied, but the engine passed onto one rail partly raised, and was derailed. The occupants immediately righted the engine. At the same time it was observed that a party of Boers were galloping into line east of the railway, but well on the Cape Colony side of the border. Some of the persons on the train declared that they saw a cannon pointed at the train. The intention of the Boers was apparently hostile. The train ran back to Vryburg at full speed, the engine flying a white flag with a red cross. Picks and shovels were seen lying about, and the Boers had apparently been disturbed while removing the rails.

It is learned that previous to the starting of the train Maribogo telephoned Vryburg asking that the train be sent up, as all was quite safe. The operator at Vryburg recognized the voice as that of a European store clerk. In view of the subsequent report that the Boers were removing the rails, it is believed the Boers compelled the clerk to speak through the telephone.

The nearest Boer command to Vryburg is laagered north of Schweizrenek, 20 miles distant and two miles inside the Transvaal. The commando sent a message to the Vryburg railway station that if the delivery of three wagonloads of meal and two of sugar received a week ago were refused the Boers would send 600 men to take them.

A dispatch from Durban says: The general officer commanding at Ladysmith issued forth on Friday morning with a strong flying column, and occupied a position covering Ladysmith. He reconnoitered for the enemy, who showed no disposition to advance. They are reported to be inside the Berg at the foot of Tintwa Pass in force, with a second command at Oliviers Hoek. The troops have returned to quarters.

It is reported from Glencoe that a large commando believed to be Free State Boers, under Commandant Viljoen, is at the foot of Bothas Pass, one and one-half miles on the Natal side of the border.

The Transvaal flag has been hoisted at Charlestown, and Commandant Viljoen has sent a message to Newcastle saying the Boers will hoist the Transvaal flag there on Saturday, but that the people need not be afraid, as everything the Boers take will be paid for. They want to slaughter cattle. Few people are left in Newcastle, including women and children.

A Cape Town dispatch says: The Modder River station master reports that firing has been heard in the direction of Kimberley, and the station master at Belmont telegraphs that a force of Boers is advancing southward.

Flowerdew, the engine driver of Captain Nesbitt's train, which was derailed and bombarded by the Boers, states that if the train had returned when warning was received that the Boers held the line it could easily have made its way back to Maribogo, but Captain Nesbitt insisted upon an endeavor being made to reach Mafeking.

"When the pilot engine was derailed," said Flowerdew, "we spent a half hour trying to replace it on the tracks. Then the Boers commenced firing, and several men were wounded. The firing was kept up all night, but without effect. The Boers were careful to concentrate their fire upon the engines, so as to save the armored carriage and ammunition trucks. At dawn they commenced to bombard the cars. I escaped by crawling a mile and a half on my belly in the sand. When both engines were destroyed Captain Nesbitt exhibited flags of truce, but the Boers continued their firing for another quarter of an hour."

There is no doubt that all the others on the train are prisoners, and that the carriage and the ammunition intact fell into the hands of the Boers.

Another dispatch says: The Boers cut the railway at Belmont, have seized the Spyfontein railway station, and constructed fortified earthworks. There are strong defending forces at Modder Bridge and the Orange river bridge. The object of these energetic operations is believed to be the capture of Cecil Rhodes. Kimberley is now isolated, both railway and telegraphic communication being cut.

The German consul general at Cape Town has issued a proclamation of neutrality, commanding all Germans to hold aloof from hostilities.

A Drunken Fool and His Revolver.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 16.—John Thomas entered the saloon of John Toohey, in Sturmerville, this county, late Saturday night and told all in the place to clear out, as he proposed to run the house. At the same time he pulled a revolver. Thomas Dougherty, who was sitting at a table, remonstrated with Thomas and told him to put his revolver back in his pocket. Thomas then fired three shots at Dougherty, all of which took effect. One of the bullets entered the stomach inflicting a fatal wound. Thomas was arrested and brought to Wilkesbarre and lodged in jail. Dougherty is 40 years of age and has a large family.

Death of a Leading Virginian.

Baltimore, Oct. 16.—Colonel John J. Williams, mayor of Winchester, Va., and ex-grand commander of the Virginia camp of Confederate Veterans, died at St. Joseph's hospital, this city, yesterday. Colonel Williams had for some time been ailing with a malady of the stomach. Five days ago he came to this city for treatment, and an operation was performed at the hospital. His condition had been weakened by weeks of suffering, and the shock was too great. Colonel Williams was 57 years old, and was one of Virginia's most brilliant lawyers. At the time of his death he was serving his fourth term as mayor of Winchester.

The New Woman Golf Champion.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Philadelphia golfers were greatly surprised and disappointed Saturday afternoon, when, on the links of the Philadelphia Country club, Mrs. Caleb F. Fox was defeated for the national woman's championship of the United States by Miss Ruth Underhill, of the Nassau club. They had hoped the title would come to this city and they felt that Mrs. Fox had more than earned it. Had Mrs. Fox played Saturday in the same form as on the day previous there is little doubt but that she would be wearing a gold medal in place of the silver one she did secure.

Senator Scott Out of Danger.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Friends of Senator N. B. Scott, of West Virginia, have received word from Morgantown, W. Va., where he has been seriously ill, that the senator has recovered so rapidly that he is now considered out of danger.

TAKING STEPS.

To Have the New Telephone Company Extended to Lock Haven.

J. T. McCormick and Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, were in Lock Haven Thursday in the interest of the Central Commercial Telephone company. The company had expected to have their phones in Lock Haven long ago, but were prevented from crossing the railroad track at Castanea and at other points between Lock Haven and Jersey shore. The visit to Lock Haven Thursday was for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to obtain the required permission from the railroad company.

The representatives of the company state that the system in Centre county is now working satisfactorily, and are elated over the bright prospects for the success of the company. They will now strain every effort to have the line extended to Lock Haven. W. E. Gheen, of Jersey Shore, was also in conference with the gentlemen.

On all fours with commonsense is that rule of the State Department against recognizing an American citizen as the diplomatic representative of a foreign country.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?

And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more?

Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer.

It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.

It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.

It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.

We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,
Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

PERSONALITIES.

When Queen Victoria's statue is Albert park, New Zealand, was recently unveiled by Lord Ranfurly, none present was more pleased than the Maoris. There first exclamation was "Aue!" and then, when they look ed, critically, upon the bronze proportions of her gracious majesty and noted her copper-colored features, they said: "All right; all the same as ourselves. She is one of us!"

Alatau T. Atkinson, recently appointed special agent of the census bureau for Hawaii, though a thoroughgoing American was born in Siberia of English parentage. His father was T. W. Atkinson, an artist and traveler, who wrote "Oriental and Western Siberia" and "The Upper and Lower Amoor," which for many years were standard works on the subject of which they treated. His mother, too, was an author, having written "Tartar Tents and Their Inhabitants." a charming account of the domestic and family life of the Tartars. Mr. Atkinson was superintendent of the Hawaiian census in 1896 and a member of the legislature in 1898. Since 1897 he has been editor of the Hawaiian Star.

Mr. Hooley, the English financier, who came to grief, does not regard himself as a superstitious person—far from it—but for all that he had a curious fad. He believed—perhaps he still believes—in the luck-bringing properties of threepenny pieces with holes in them. He collected them and gave orders to his bankers to save them for him. He used to present "lucky" threepenny bits to his friends, for he always carried some loose in his pockets. Bracelets composed of threepennies were given by him to feminine acquaintances, and it was plain to see that he regarded these damaged little coins as talismans.

A Railroad's Experiment in Tree Planting.

The results of experiments made twenty years ago by the Fort Scott and Memphis railroad in the growing of timber are just now being felt. There was considerable fear in those days for the future timber supply for the road, and the directors called Prof. Sargent, of Harvard, into consultation. He had about 100 acres of land, planted with white ash, black walnut, wild cherry, Osage, orange, ailanthus, Catalpa bignoniides and Catalpa speciosa, and for three or four years carefully watched the growth of the different trees. The Catalpa speciosa was then selected as the strongest grower under all conditions, and as promising to reach maturity long before any other of the trees would be available for railroad purposes. Two complete sections were planted with the Catalpa speciosa and it is now estimated that, with judicious cutting, 1000 trees, from 10 to 15 inches in diameter, and from 30 to 40 feet high, can be taken off each acre during the next ten years. Telegraph poles of catalpa are now worth from $3 to $3:50 each, and fence posts from 10 to 15 cents apiece. The whole cost of the land—trees, planting, cultivation, interest on the capital, and general attention for fifteen years—has been less than $100 an acre.—Buffalo Express.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

The Victim is the Daughter of the Republican Candidate for Commissioner of Clinton County.

In our news columns, Friday under date of Baltimore, will be found the account of the shooting of Eva Jones Harris, by her husband, which tragedy caused a great sorrow to fall upon the household of A. Y. Jones: manager of the Renova hotel, and also the Republican candidate for county commissioner of Clinton county.

Another dispatch from Baltimore giving more details of the shooting affair, gives the following facts:

Harry W. Harris shot and mortally wounded his wife Thursday because her father, A. Y. Jones, of Renova, Pa., had come to take her back home with him. She was afraid to live with her husband on account of his ungovernable temper. The family moves in good society. Mutual love of music first brought the young people together. She is 24 and a beautiful woman. He is 29 years of age.

Eva Jones three years ago was attending the Peabody Conservatory of music. She had a fine voice and was taking vocal instructions. Six month after she first met Harris they were married. Their baby is 9 months old.

Her father says that although his daughter has only been married two years and a half she has had to leave her husband and return to her home in Pennsylvania three times because of his violent temper. A week ago Harris wrote her he was ill and she came back to Baltimore to nurse him. Thursday the father received a telegram that there was trouble again. He hurried to Baltimore, arriving Friday morning.

The father idecided that his daughter had better return with him. Harris seemed distressed. He asked her father if Eva would return if he behaved himself. The father said she would. Then Harris stepped into his wife's room where she was dressing for the journey. He put his arms about her neck as though to caress her, then quick as a flash he drew a pistol and shot her in the head.

He would probably have next turned the revolver on himself had not Mr. Jones ran in and wrested the weapon from him. When taken to the police station he acted like a crazy man.

Literally Broken to Pieces.

Edward Puller had a horrible experience at the sawmill of Brown, Clark & Howe at Williamsport Thursday and is now at the hospital with both legs broken in half a dozen places and with his right arm and several ribs also broken. He is hurt internally. The accident occurred while Puller was repairing a broken belt. In some manner his shirt sleeve caught in a line shaft which was revolving at a speed of hundreds of revolutions a minute. Puller was whirled around the shaft, his body striking at every turn against the ceiling. After the machinery was stopped Puller was suspended fifteen feet from the floor. He was cut down and lowered to the floor.

Ghosts would frighten many people who are not afraid of germs. Yet the germ is a real danger. If this microscopic animalism could be magnified to a size in proportion to its deadliness it would show like a giant python, or fire breathing dragon. The one fact to remember is that the germ is powerless to harm the body when the blood is pure. It is far easier to keep the germ out than to drive it out after it obtains a hold in the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the most powerful and perfect of blood purifying medicines. It increases the quantity as well as the quality of the blood, and enables the body to resist disease, or to throw it off if disease has obtained a footing in some weak organ. Wherever the digestion is impaired, the nutrition of the body is diminished, for the blood is made pure from the food which is eaten, and half digested food cannot supply the body with blood in quantity and quality adequate to its needs. For this condition there is no remedy equal to "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred persons who give it a fair trial. When there is constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will promptly relieve and permanently cure.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Thursday afternoon, a reporter for this paper, took a stroll out in the direction of the new match factory, and there met Col. W. Fred Reynolds and his partner, Joseph L. Montgomery and in a short interview with these gentlemen learned some facts which we believe will interest our readers.

In the first place, work on the match factory is progressing finely. The stone masons are hard at work under the direction of John Noll and the work is being pushed for all its worth, and by the 1st of January it is, expected that the factory will be in full operation and making matches by the thousands.

Wednesday a contract was made with the Mill Hall Pressed Brick Company to furnish 300,000 pressed brick as soon as possible. All the buildings are to be of pressed brick with slate roof.

Colonel Reynolds will at once begin the erection of six substantial frame houses on the ground between the creamery and Willowbank street. The black smith shop of Jerry Shearer will be moved to the other side of Willowbank street.

The offices of the Pennsylvania Match Company, the Phoenix Milling Company, and the Bellefonte Fuel & Supply Company are to be located on the second floor of Reynold's bank building, where Col. Reynold's offices are now located. The office of Joseph L. Montgomery, manager of these different firms will also be located here.

Col. Reynolds and Mr. Montgomery are continually making improvements at the Phoenix Mill. On Wednesday a contract was made for a high speed engine to run in connection with their water power which will increase the capacity of the mill 75 barrels of flour per day over its present out put. They are also putting in a new chop mill with a capacity of 50 tons per day which will increase capacity of mill to 75 tons per day.

Last week the Phoenix Milling Company shipped 2200 barrels of flour to the seaboard for export. On Wednesday they received five car loads of wheat and three of corn. The five car loads of wheat contained 5500 bushels. It takes one car load of wheat a day or 1100 bushels to run the mill, which at the present price of wheat runs into money pretty fast.

An Exciting Runaway.

A boys carelessness was the cause of a serious runaway Wednesday in which Mrs. Julia Schad, a widow lady, mother of Charles and Albert Schad, of this place, was badly injured. Mrs. Schad was being driven to town in a buggy by John Armstrong who is employed by the Schad Brothers. When just on this side of the Fuel & Supply Company's oil house a wheel came off the buggy and the horse at once became frightened and ran away. The distance from this point to the side track at E. K. Rhoads coal yard is very short but before they reached there a second wheel had dropped off and as they crossed the track the third one came off. Mrs. Schad was thrown out one side of the buggy and Armstrong the other side and the horse continued it's mad career towards High Street. When opposite Rhoads' coal yard the horse broke loose from the buggy and was finally stopped at High Street. The buggy was badly damaged.

Mr. Edward K. Rhoads, who was walking along the railroad track beyond his coal-yard, was probably the only witness of the accident. He saw the buggy coming and also noticed that one of the wheels was about to fall off. He called to the driver to stop that horse at once, but it was to late for just then the wheel came off and the accident resulted as above stated.

The driver of the buggy was uninjured but Mrs. Schad was evidently hurt. A chair was secured and Mrs. Schad was taken to the residence of her daughter-in-law, Dr. Edith Schad who lives nearby. An examination showed that the lady was not seriously injured but was badly bruised and shaken up.

A report as to the cause of the accident is to the effect that a boy in the employ of the Schad brothers had taken the burs off the buggy with the intention of greasing the wheels but had forgotten to tell the driver of his act.

BE LIBERAL.

Another Industry Sure for Bellefonte —A Shirt Factory

Still another good industry is to be added to the list of new ones springing up every day in and about Bellefonte. This time it is a shirt factory and it is a sure thing, this factory has been running at Lititz, Lancaster county, Pa., for the past five years at its fullest capacity. Their present location is not a suitable one owing to the severe competition they have to meet there, and a change is desirable. It will only cost a trifling sum to move the plant here and this the citizens of our town are asked to contribute. The location is already secured and the enterprise is being backed by some of our best business men.

Now business men of Bellefonte be liberal. Go down in your pockets and see how quick the small sum desired can be raised. It will be a good investment and will greatly benefit our town. From fifty to seventy-five hands will be given employment,

A committee commenced calling on our citizens Tuesday and it is hoped no one will hesitate to contribute liberally so that he work of moving the factory here may commence at once.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Business Which Claimed the Attention of Borough Fathers Monday Night.

Council met Monday evening at 7:30 with President Gerberich in the chair and the following members present: Walkey, Derstine, Garrity, Wetzel and Tripple.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Street committee reported laying new plank in High street bridge. Put in new gutter along Reformed church and parsonage. Did some grading on Howard street.

Street Commissioner Johnson reported the dangerous condition of the road which crosses the Central Railroad side track to the furnace on the road to Coleville. The citizens ask that the upper road be abandoned and that the lower road which runs under the railroad viaduct be used altogether. Council decided to notify Central Railroad Company to put some caution notice at this place and lay a proper crossing there.

Water committee reported everything in good running order at water works. Various pipes and hydrants have been repaired. Sent 5 gallons of water to Prof. Pond at State College to be analyzed but have not heard from it as yet. Pumps running 24 hours.

The clerk was ordered to purchase 6 expansion ringers for the fire department. There was nothing of any importance elicited from the reports of other committees.

Thomas Eadon claimed damages for injuries to a valuable horse sustained by stepping on a piece of broken glass in a pile of rubbish said to have been left on the highway by the negligence of the street commissioner. The boys have no control of their legs, but otherwise are in a healthy condition.

DYNAMITE AS A FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

Three Men Perhaps Fatally Injured by a Mine Gas Explosion.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 18.—An explosion of gas occurred at the Shenandoah City colliery at Shenandoah yesterday and fire immediately broke out in the mine, hemming in 22 men who were at work at the time. Those attracted to the surface of the mine by the explosion at once began vigorous efforts to rescue the imprisoned men, and in this they were successful, all the men being taken out alive in a comparatively short time. Three of the number, Adam Sobolinski, William Skavinski and Joseph Caspavage, were seriously burned, and their injuries may prove fatal. Several others sustained severe injuries.

The Shenandoah fire department was unsuccessful in the efforts to subdue the fire with water, and the mine officials then decided on a more heroic plan. Several pounds of dynamite was taken into the gangway by men killed in the use of the explosive. The dynamite was exploded in the mine, and the concussion extinguished the fire instantly. The colliery was thus saved.

"There is No Manlier Man"

The Philipsburg Journal, pays the following compliment to our townsman John P. Harris, Sr., in its issue of Monday Oct. 16.

"One of the best fellows to be met in a week's travel is John P. Harris, Cashier of the Jackson, Hasting & Co.'s bank, Bellefonte. A call at his office the other day, we found him busy, but just as congenial as ever, and always ready to take a friend by the hand, and always manages to take time to have a chat. Better people than Mr. Harris are scarce."

WHY WOMEN ARE NERVOUS.

[British Medical News]

The frequent cases of nervous prostration or utter collapse of the nervous system under which women go all to pieces, as the saying is, have caused much thought and investigation on the part of physicians.

Certain inorganic substances are well known to cause various forms of nervous diseases which are readily traced to the poisons producing them. Further research leads to the belief that alum is a prevailing cause of so-called nervous prostration, for the symptoms it produces in the nervous, system after its absorption into the blood are very remarkable indeed. Experiments physiologically made upon animals by Orfila, Professors Hans Mayer, Paul Seim and others, show that alum frequently produces no visible symptoms for many days after its introduction into the body. Then follows loss of appetite and other alimentary distrubances, and finally a serious prostration of the whole nervous system. The most prominent physicians now believe that that "nervous prostration" and many affections of the nerves from which both men and women suffer are caused by the continued absorption of alum into the system.

It is probable that many medical men are unaware of the extent to which salts of alumina may be introduced into the body, being under the impression that the use of alum in bread is prohibited. Alum, however, in still used surreptitiously to some extent to whiten bread, and very largely making cheap kinds of baking powder. In families where baking powder is generally used great care should be exercised to procure only those brands made from cream of tartar. The alum powders may generally be distinguished by the lower price at which they are sold.
